

WHITE ROCK MODERN HOME TOUR

September 10, 2015

Galadriel, a White Rock home designed by Iredale partner Peter Hildebrand, and it has been a favorite of the media and the public. It was one of several homes in this year's White Rock Modern Home Tour.

Galadriel is a refined, modern home with the warmth and strength inherently found in West Coast architecture. "Fir beams and stone materials were used for the construction of this home to create a robust, low maintenance, crisp and sharp ambiance," said architect Peter Hildebrand.

A close collaboration between Iredale and Kliewer Brothers Construction, this home achieves an easy transition and consistent contemporary look from the indoors to the outdoors.
